

Dear Buzz Readers,

I am pleased to report that with your support I have been able to make a further donation to the refurbishment of the hall from The Buzz.

I expect you have all noticed that the print quality of our newsletter is better. This has come at an extra cost but I believe well worth it.

Plans are well on their way for this year's Revel Week. We hope by putting the show schedule in this issue, will increase our entries.

Please forward anything for the next copy by the 20th June.

CAN YOU HELP US?

PLANTERS

For the 10th Anniversary of Open Gardens the committee would like to make the village look really 'flowery'. They would like your help by planting up a container and displaying it outside of your house for Open Gardens Day.

A basket or planter would be great but maybe you have some old wellies or boots you could plant up. It really doesn't matter whether the container is unusual or not.

CAKES

The CAKE STALL for Open Gardens this year will be in THE HALL. It will be organised again by the Friends of the Methodist Chapel and they would be very grateful for any donations of cakes, sponges etc to be brought to the hall by 10.00am on the 19th June. Many thanks in advance.

Macmillan longest day golf challenge

Macmillan Cancer support are a charity who know how a cancer diagnosis can affect everything. They are a charity that are there to support and help the people affected by this terrible disease by helping them take back some control in their lives. From helping with money worries and advice about work, to someone who will listen if you just want a chat. They have helped millions of families around the UK and that is why we have decided to take up this challenge.

Myself, Matt Trewin, Dave James and Ryan Curtis have taken up the Macmillan longest day golf challenge. They ask people around the UK to play 4 rounds of golf in one day, normally at one course but we have taken it a step further. We are going to visit 4 different courses. Starting at Trethorne Golf Club on 20th June at 4.30am. We are then moving onto Launceston, followed by Holsworthy and finally finishing at Bude golf club. We all know someone who is or has been affected by cancer and the support Macmillan offer is invaluable not only to the cancer sufferer but to their surrounding family's.

We are all trying to raise as much money as possible and have set a team target of £2000 pounds which we are well on the way to reaching. If anyone would like to donate the sponsorship forms can be found in the Bridge Inn, KJ Bromell, James & Aldridge garage, Bude and Holsworthy Golf Club and Country Kitchen in Holsworthy. Alternatively you can sponsor us by texting BUDE50 £5 to 70070 or online at:

www.justgiving.com/fundraising/Greg-Snowden1

All support is very much appreciated.

Kind regards

Greg, Matt, Dave and Ryan

NEIGHBOURHOOD WATCH NOTES

Again the village has had another case of someone just walking in to a house but was sent off by the householder before anything happened. It's still a shock to find a total stranger appearing in your home. Once they are out, could you rush out to see where they went, and then dial 999 ?

I have had more phone scams reported to me.

Your bank wants to call round and collect your credit cards ! Why? They don't do that ! It's not the bank. Put the phone down.

The police phone wanting to call round. What ? By appointment ? So tell them they must -- be in uniform; give their name now; produce their identification and say which police station they are coming from. They aren't the police at all. Put the phone down.

And if someone unknown comes knocking at your door, Don't just let them in. Get identification first. Don't phone the number they give you ! Call a neighbour or dial 999.

Keep safe. Summer is coming, we hope.

Enjoy the open gardens on Sunday June 19th. We'll be keeping a lookout.

VILLAGE HALL BENEFIT FROM 60'S, 70'S DISCO

A group of friends from the village got together recently and organised a very successful 60's, 70's Disco. Luke Davy provided the music and several of the dancers dressed appropriately. So well dressed, some were even hard to recognise. It was a great evening and £400 was raised for our village hall. Another is planned later in the year.

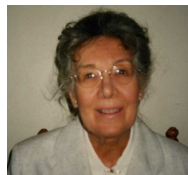

Grandad Cholwill

After lunch one Sunday a few weeks ago Harvey and Ella decided to do some painting but instead of using their sketch pads they chose Grandad. The finishing touch was a clip in the hair. Harvey and Ella were pleased with their work!!

13
SKILLS AND CRAFTS By Marie Field.

Amazing five years have flown with our Buzz Magazine,
With the first tiny edition could it have been foreseen
Spotlight would reveal such an abundance of interesting lives,

To view folk around us with fresh new enlightened eyes.

With ancient tales of long , long ago,
Stoic forefathers trudging through deep snow.

Handing their skills down to our sons,
In uncertain weather farming knowledge all hard won.
Hard working folk quietly contributing good,
Valuable unsung heroes providing the nations food.

And the owner of The Mill, Mr Alan Beat,
Has kindly formed of coppicing and country crafts.
Preventing old skills from fading into the past.
For with skills our village holds a fair balance,
Of folk with a diversity of crafts and talents.

A daring deep sea diver now retired to the shallows,

A lady Archer winning prizes with bows and arrows.
Michael Moore's large working models made with painstaking precision,
Every tiny component in the correct position.
Contrasting greatly with Gary and Heidi's period furniture,
Tiny exquisite models for the discerning purchaser.

For we all have a God given talent hidden away,

To discover, encourage and display.

To bring colour and interest to our lives,
And brighten the hum drum of nine to five.

Industrious ladies in the Craft Club,
With knitting needles flying and tongues a wag.

Rose our clever cartoon artist,

Able to capture each village face with incredible likeness.

Painting beautiful scenic backdrops for Pantomimes,
Helping to make the show a hit every time.

For Rose and Chris give so much pleasure,
And now the Wonnacott Trophy for them to treasure.

And Marcus Dymond and Michael Slade,
On a number of different instruments play,

In the Band of Bude Metric Brass,

To appreciative audiences their talent to impart.

And many more wonderfully gifted folk live in Bridgerule,

A whole sea of talent in a tiny pool.

And even these skills and talents we would not have known,
Had not our cheery magazine come Buzzing in all our homes.

BRIDGERULE TABLE TENNIS CLUB

Bridgerule Table Tennis club is now its second season, for the first time since starting as a fun and exercise group we have moved on with a much improved standard, so much so that we have been able to enter a team in The North Cornwall League.

The Team of Audrey Bewes, Alan Quilter, and Jimmy Rickett have done the Village proud by not only entering competitive play, just missing out on winning the division and finishing runner up in 2nd spot.

The team also had a good run in the cup playing against much higher ranked players and only just losing out in their semi-final 3-2. This was a highly creditable performance.

Next season will hopefully see us enter a second team into the league. Not forgetting all the other members who have greatly improved and become competitive, new members who join are caught up with the enthusiasm within the club on our sessions which are held every Tuesday afternoon from 2.00pm.

70 is the new 50!

Three birthdays close to each other were celebrated recently by a having an enjoyable meal out at The Falcon Bude.

Rose Hitchings, Freda Lacey and Christine Gee.

Victor Stewart Bickle was born in June 1946 in Stratton, a stone's throw from where he lives today some sixty nine years later. Vic's family was mum, dad, 5 brothers and 5 sisters. Sadly mum and dad, 4 brothers and 2 sisters have now passed away.

He attended Stratton Primary School and at the appropriate time transferred to Stratton Secondary Modern School. His parents were regular attenders of Stratton Chapel and Vic was always encouraged to attend Sunday school. Vic did not always conform at Sunday school and was known to encourage others to do the same.

One day whilst watching his parents black and white television Vic saw Hank Marvin of the famous Shadows playing the guitar. Vic made it plain to his parents that this was what he wanted to do. Dad didn't think there was any money in playing music and told his son so. Undeterred, Vic began a paper round before going to school earning 7/6 a week and delivering groceries after school earning 12/6 a week. Dad was an insurance clerk and requested that Vic used some of his earned money on an insurance policy and after paying towards his lodgings he could save 50p each week which later would pay for his first guitar.

His parents were not amused with this purchase and the only place he was allowed to practice this much wanted instrument was in an outside toilet, with the use of a candle when it got dark! Each night at 9.00pm mum would shout for him to come in and go to bed. This self taught young man was showing a talent for the guitar and began playing in a Youth Group called 'Nite Life'.

Upon leaving school Vic took up employment at Bude Picture House (now Sainsburys) as a trainee projectionist.

One day someone heard Vic playing the guitar and asked him to attend an audition in Bodmin to become a semi-professional player in a group called 'The Grass'. He passed the audition and for the next three years Vic played up to 5 nights a week travelling to the best venues of the time in nearby towns such as Newquay and Falmouth. The group also played gigs at Plymouth for up and coming acts. One Vic recalls was Simon Dupree and his big sound.

One advert I read whilst interviewing Vic¹⁷ said “The Grass”, four good looking blokes that send the girls crazy and play all “POP”! But dad still insisted there was no future in music and so Vic began employment on a building site. Things did not work out and in 1963 he started working at Whitstone and Bridgerule Brickworks on the block plant. The manager being, the late Norman Stansbury. It was whilst here that it was suggested that Bridgerule form a Football Club. Norman and the late John Dell got the team together. Vic joined and later became the captain. Vic remembers how he respected the playing of Ron Abbott and how he felt influenced by him.

It was at one these football matches that a young lady by the name of Janet and her dad, the late Tom Honey of Dux came to watch. Not long after, Vic began making regular trips on his scooter to Dux and as they say the rest is history. In 1970 Vic and Janet were married at Bude Registry Office and bought their first home together at St Mary's Stratton; the home where they are still living.

Vic was so busy working by day and playing in a group by night that it seemed that if Jan wanted to see her husband she would have to travel to the gigs with him. In May 1975 Stephanie their eldest daughter was born. She now lives with her partner, Nigel and Vic and Janet's first grandchild, Holly, at Springfield Bridgerule. In July 1979 their youngest daughter Alison was born. She lives with her husband, Dan a professional golfer and lives just across the road from Vic and Janet. Some Buzz readers will remember Janet's mum, Joyce, who at the age of 87 still lives in her own home in Bude. It was about this time that Vic felt something was still missing from his life and paid a visit to his much respected Sunday School Teacher of years gone by, Mr Tom Lashbrook. Vic wanted to become a committed Christian and so with the help of Mr. Lashbrook began training to become a Lay Preacher. In 1985 Vic was co-opted unto the Holsworthy Circuit Methodist Plan.

The Brickworks now closed and Vic took up employment at TIC in Bude. Here he helped to make various aluminium castings. After a while of working there the staff found out that they were being exploited and so Vic decided to leave and began working at Dairy Crest in Davidstow. To train for this work he was sent to Cannington College in Somerset. Later Vic was asked to run the butter plant at Dairy Crest. In total he worked for 25 years at Dairy Crest and was in charge of the butter plant for eight years.

He then found employment much nearer to home and began working in the laboratory of an Ice-Cream factory at Kings Hill Bude selling to all the major supermarkets. After working there for 10 years sadly all the staff were made redundant due to the factory moving to Leeds. By now Vic was 60 and chose to retire and concentrate on teaching music.

On some days off whilst still employed Vic taught music at Bradworthy and St. Petroc's School's and teaching pupils various styles of music at his home. At one stage he taught as many as 7 pupils each evening between 5.30 and 10.30pm, Monday to Friday. 35– 40 pupils a week being taught either the guitar or the piano. Vic's music ability has been so successful that his students have taken and passed approximately a thousand exams either from the Associated Board Royal School of Music or The Rock School. Vic has spent many years volunteering with Youth Clubs and Young People including a group from Bridgerule at one time. Here he would encourage the students musical ability; be it the playing of an instrument or by their singing. Groups under the inspiration of Vic have seen their music taken into a recording studio many times and put on disc.

He was recognised one year for his voluntary youth and charity work, by receiving the much respected, The Eric Chadd Rotary Award.

When Vic relaxes he enjoys playing snooker with his sons-in-law. He and Janet enjoy walking and spending as much time as possible with their grand-daughter Holly. He still takes many services in our local chapels, is dedicated in various ways to his own chapel in Stratton and just over a year ago I asked him if he would lead a group of people who wanted to start singing at Bridgerule. Although still very busy Vic accepted and of course The Tamarside Singers were born.

I thank Vic for his Spotlight and personally for his commitment to our choir.

St. Bridget's Family Service

On Sunday April 10th the now regular "team" led by Val Harris and assisted by Pat Johnston, Jayne Costello and Alec Johnston (in charge of the projector!) William Lucas, Caitlin Braund, Phoebe Lucas and Lucas Braund not only helped with a very enjoyable dramatization of "The very hungry caterpillar" but contributed to the service by reading the children's prayers and singing some very appropriate worship songs , including "If I were a butterfly".

The service concluded with refreshments, provided by Clarice Harris and was enjoyed by all.

BRIDGERULE COFFEE CLUB

A few days ago members and friends of Bridgerule Coffee Club travelled to Ottery Garden Centre and Sidmouth as part of what is now becoming regular coach trips with increasing numbers wishing to go. The next one set for May is to visit the Lost Gardens of Heligan and Mevagissey and Audrey and Sheila will be happy to take your names if you are interested .

CONGRATULATIONS EUCHRE PLAYERS!

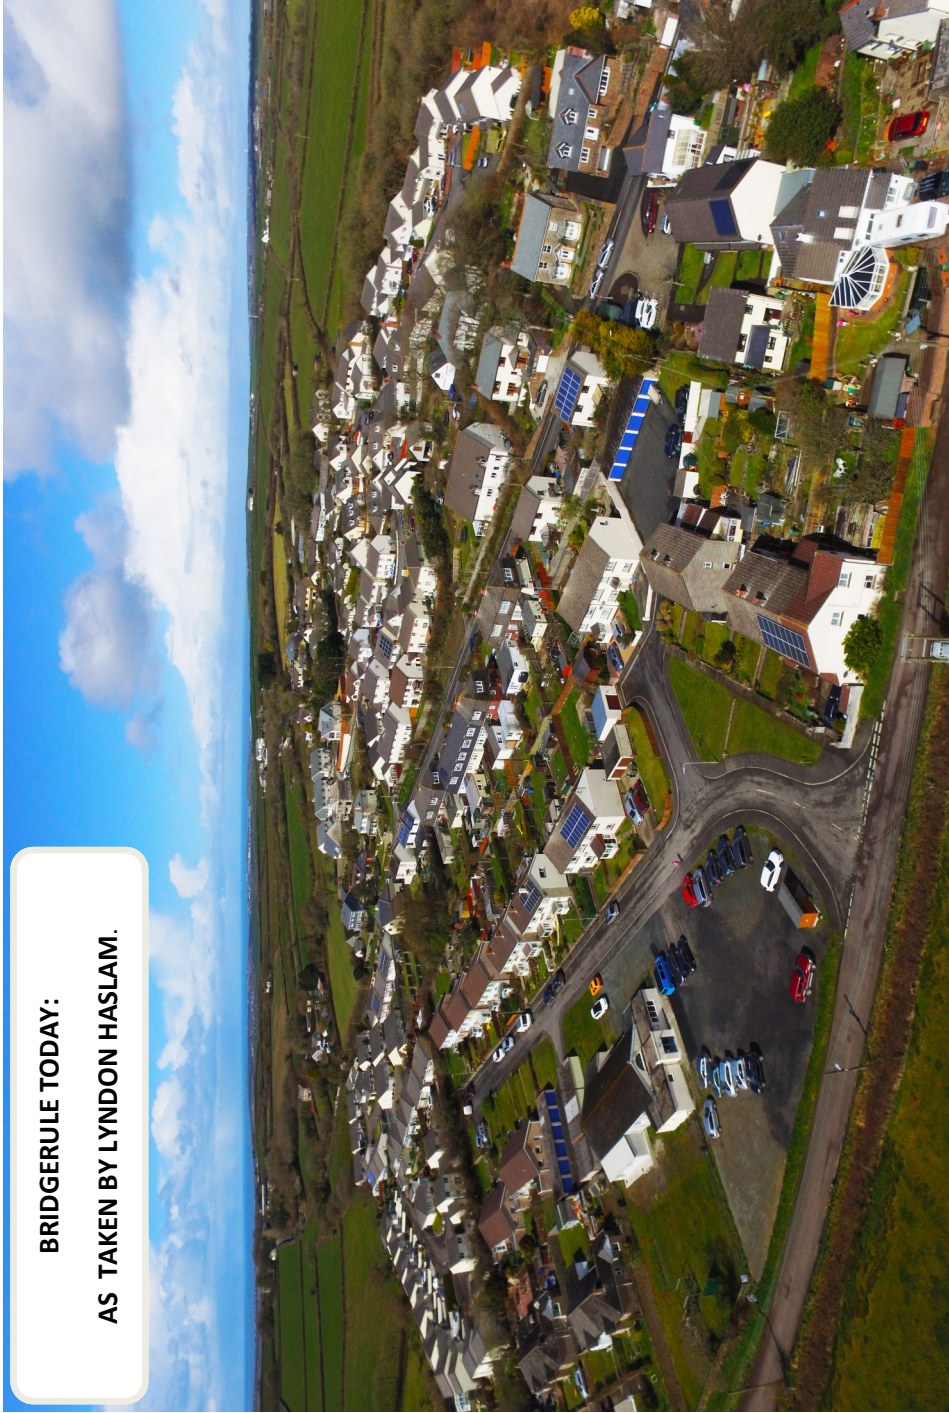

A few weeks ago a team of 8 euchre players representing the Holsworthy area of the Holsworthy and District Euchre League travelled to Exeter to play in the British Championships. After playing eight games they were declared the winners. The team received the winning china trophy and also an individual trophy. A member of that team was Colin Cholwill.

At the recent Annual Dinner of the Holsworthy and District Euchre League held at The Rydon Inn, Bridge B were winners of the Bude Shield.

TAMARSIDE SINGERS

We are a friendly eclectic group of like-minded people who meet every Monday evening to sing, led by Vic Bickle who plays guitar and Alan Quilter on the bass. We only started up about 18 months ago however have rapidly grown to in excess of 25 regular members.

We started performing in public 15 months ago and we are increasingly in demand to perform at local venues, with our last gig taking place at Bethel on Sunday 17th April. It seems every time we sing we get more bookings, so we must be doing something right!

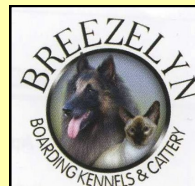

So if you like singing and would like to come and join us, we rehearse every Monday evening at the chapel: 7pm for a couple of hours. We would love to see you and you will have fun!

SURPRISE FOR SISTER FREDA'S 70TH BIRTHDAY!

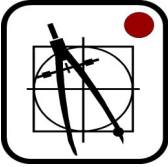

Freda was quite content to have a McDonald's and do some shopping for her 70th with youngest daughter, Yvonne. But during the morning of her birthday, Freda received a telephone call saying there had been a delay but not to worry she would still be going out! Time passed and another phone call said that she should have something to eat but daughter would be with her in half an hour. By this time mum was not a happy bunny and said that if nothing was happening very soon it would be too late anyway!

It wasn't long before 2 cars pulled up outside Freda's home. She soon understood why there had been a delay. In one car was sister Sandra with a niece, Lena from North London. In the second car was her two youngest sisters, Gloria with husband Ray from Lowestoft, and sister, Linda, (already had txt wishing Freda a Happy Birthday) with husband Brian from Great Yarmouth.

This lovely lady was now dumb struck but daughter Yvonne was soon forgiven. To complete Freda's day her children, grandchildren and her surprise guests enjoyed a lovely meal at The Falcon Hotel Bude. Daughter-in-law, Rachael made the cake.

MECCANO FULLY AUTOMATED ROTAWHEELS

FAIRGROUND RIDE by Michael Moore

The two wheels are 26 feet in diameter and are pivoted one at each end of a steel boom which has its main axle 42 feet from the ground. As the boom revolves so do the two wheels in the same direction and at the same speed. When the boom is dead upright the top of the uppermost wheel is 90 feet from the ground. The maximum speed is 20 miles per hour and of the sixteen cars carries two passengers.

The model stands 4 feet high on an 18.5" by 12.5" base. Journaled 26" above floor level at the apexes of 2 'A' frames is a double arm boom of 28" diameter carrying at each extremity a 16" diameter wheel. The double arm boom is driven by a base mounted motor via reduction gearing and sprocket chain and by means of suitable gearing and shafting. The main wheels contra-rotate with respect to the double arm.

Parts used 1412 + 3318 nuts and bolts.
