BUZZ BUZZ BUZZ... MERRY CHRISTMAS

Dear Buzz Readers,

A packed Buzz Newsletter again including What's Going On in our Community leading up to Christmas.

A Big Thank You to Rose whose artwork has been the inspiration on the Buzz covers since the first Buzz was printed in 2008 making them look quite unique.

I wish to thank those businesses and members of the community who help to finance The Buzz each year. I am very grateful as printing does not come cheaply. If there are any readers who would like to start sponsoring this Community Newsletter please contact me.

Please remember if you have anything to put in the next Buzz please get it to me by 20th January 2020.

BRIDGERULE VILLAGE HALL

CAN YOU HELP US PLEASE?

We are fortunate at the Village Hall that a small group of lovely ladies voluntarily keep our hall looking at its best on a regular basis.

We try to organise it in pairs and it takes about 2 hours at one time.

At the moment volunteers give their time once every 6 weeks.

If you are able to help us, the committee would be very grateful.

Please contact Sheila 01288 381350 if available.

Thank you Jimmy and Roz for the time and effort you kindly gave to the hall.

Some residents have shown an interest in starting a Village Book Club.

If you would like to join them please let the Editor of The Buzz know and she will pass your name on.

WEEKEND WORK

A kind and reliable person, needed by disabled lady and family for 1 hour between 6 and 7 pm each Sunday Evening, to wash up and load dishwasher etc.

Might suit person living in Bridgerule Village.

Would need at least one reference please.

£20 per evening.

HARVEST FESTIVAL

The Rev. Howard Curnow returned to our chapel recently to preach at the annual Sunday Harvest Festival service. Rev Curnow and his wife, Mary, are now retired and living at Lifton. Over 30 years ago Rev Curnow was the appointed Minister for Bridgerule Chapel in the then Holsworthy Methodist Circuit. Proceeds for the Harvest amounted to £400. Thankyou to everyone who supported it.

NEIGHBOURHOOD WATCH NOTES

Are you still getting unwanted funny phone calls? Is there a way of finding out who is calling you?

Try "who_called_me". In this site I have seen many options for identifying your unknown caller. Also you can see how many others have reported being bothered by a phone number.

These calls are so annoying.

Now Christmas is coming, so make sure it's your Christmas and not someone else's who hasn't paid for it. Keep your shopping safe and out of sight. Keep your purse, wallet and cards out of reach of those who'd love to spend your money.

It's much the same with scams. Don't believe what they say. It's never free. I have known letters from an apparently judicial person offering most of an inheritance from someone you've never heard of. But the administration fee is all it would take. If you pay, they get, you have nothing.

And what about these money laundering scams. Offering you money from goodness knows where for your bank account, so that it looks like yours. Have a look at "moneymules.co.uk". Nothing to do with donkeys - unless you are pulled in.

So do take care of you and yours, and look after the neighbours.

Cloud Computing

Over recent years cloud computing has become more widely used as a means of online storage, making data available to anyone in the world who has permission to access it, I was recently asked to explain the cloud and how to use it.

The cloud is a misnomer as there is no cloud, satellite or ether connection involved. It is a network of computers linked by under-water (submarine) fibre optic cables. There are over 400 inter-continental cable links, 8 connect the UK with the USA and more connect the UK to Europe and other countries. The most local landing point to Bridgerule is Widemouth Bay where Apollo, TAT-8, TAT-14 and Yellow (AC2) cables come ashore:

The cloud is best suited to business users, but cloud operators encourage private users and many can fall into the trap of "backing up" files into the cloud in the belief it is a secure environment, yet not all cloud operators have good security and others experience employee intrusions into private files where data is compromised or stolen.

The cloud is a network of massive land-based computers, Microsoft's are in Seattle and Google's in Texas, they lease sectors of their systems to users who allow others to view or download personal files stored in those sectors but this can become expensive when exceeding the free limits.

There are several free ways to share personal details such as "WhatsApp" or other social media, but all these operate in exactly the same way as the cloud. Most modern computers hold large Hard Drives with volumes of empty space, this can be partition into smaller sections and used for back-up and storage without the need to use the cloud and which is more secure.

Microsoft will cease to support Windows 7 from 14th January 2020, although some business accounts will continue to receive patches and fixes for a further period. Selected Windows 7 systems can still download & install Windows 10 for free - more information is available.

or... upgrade to a refurbished system with activated windows 10 plus a 90 Day warranty inclusive of free data transfer and possible trade in of your old computer.

Leap Year Children's party – Saturday 29th February 2020

A man who was born in 1944 and lives near Bude will be celebrating his 19th birthday on Saturday 29th February 2020.

Christopher Darwin is arranging a Leap Year Children's party at midday in Bude and has already booked a room at a hotel on 29th February.

Christopher says "I am aiming for at least 25 Leap Year children from the local area and each can bring one 'nanny' – a friend, relation or spouse. I shall provide the buffet and some of the drinks. It seems a Good Idea to have such a party.

I have already found three other locals who will be celebrating their 15th, 9th and 6th birthdays.

I plan name tags with birthday numbers for everyone and guests can certainly dress as children.

I shall need some evidence – a driving license, for example, from the over-fives."

THE TUBBY HUBBY

He bought a jazzy sweat band -
But could barely raise a sweat...
And agreed to pack up smoking -
Yes—he did it— as a bet.

Then he purchased a bright tracksuit
And a pair of fetching... 'daps'
Did a gentle jog around the lawn—
Spun round and then collapsed.

His chest expanders didn't stretch much
But removed a clump of hair
And the skipping rope was duly tried ...
But only as a dare.

The weights he had for Christmas ...
Did his back in—trying to lift
And when he tried to touch his toes ...
His jogging bottoms split.

He's not the shape he once was ...
And I'm not the 7 stone bride ...
But together— we've grown happy
Grown contented— and GROWN WIDE!

SPOTLIGHT ON DARRYL RICKARD

I was born in 1975 in Camborne (Cornwall). This is where I spent my youth up until I reached the age of 16 and this is when my eventful career started; that of the Youth Training Scheme.

I joined the Royal Army Medical Core as a Junior Leader and spent the next 6 months at Gamecock Barracks, Bramcote, trying to get through basic training!

A typical day in the life of a junior recruit consisted of an early start with block jobs and making sure our kit was in perfect order ready for "Stand by your beds" inspection time by Sergeant Major! This would then be followed by a very fast pace run by the physical training instructor. (PTI) If we survived this, we would then proceed with many different types of lessons from Math's and English to survival skills. Off to the cookhouse for scoff/ lunch we would go, for some tasteless culinary delights. After scoff a quick stop off to the armory to collect our SA80 rifle, before we quick marched down to the range to participate in target shooting and assault courses. This was routine, day in day out for 6 months.

I then went to Keogh barracks in Aldershot in 1993 to complete my medical training and become a qualified medical soldier. This was when all the postings and operational tours started. Around the world I would go. This is what I thought but perhaps not!

I went to Norway on winter tours which included arctic warfare training. On many occasions I would be the only medic present. So I would therefore have to treat broken limbs to frostbite and many more medical conditions and injuries.

On returning to the United Kingdom it wasn't long before I was heading to Turkey, Sardinia and back to Norway as part of a multi national task force, which involved military operations (exercise) with the soldiers of these countries. This would entail us training these personnel with our knowledge and for them to show us their equipment they would use.

On my return to Aldershot I was promoted to Lance Corporal. With this came a posting to the Army Training Regiment Pirbright working in the busy Medical Centre looking after the recruits who were completing their phase 1 training.

We often had quite a few recruits go down with heat exhaustion, which could be life threatening. The treatment for this would usually involve trying to reduce the temperature by administering fluids by IV whilst completing observation's on the patient, until an ambulance arrived.

It was at Aldershot where I met my wife, Shona. She was also currently serving as a medic. Shona was born in Stratton and joined the army in 1997.

We married in 2000 at Stratton and later had two sons Joshua and Bradley.

We then decided that Shona should then leave the Army so she could concentrate on being a full-time mum.

I then managed to pick up another promotion and got posted to Bulford in Wiltshire. It was Christmas 2001 and the unit was on standby for Afghanistan. We decided to bite the bullet and spend Christmas back in Stratton, or as I thought! A telephone call through on Christmas day to say I needed to return on boxing day as they needed a medic to support the unit which was leaving that evening for Afghanistan.

We flew to Oman for a few days before getting on the Hercules to fly into Afghanistan on New Years Eve.

We had to fly into Afghan at night and in the dark so we were not conspicuous to the enemy. It was one of the heaviest landings in a plane I have ever had. The airport looked more like a scene from a Mad Max film.

I arrived at the camp in Kabul to find out I was the only medic for 3 weeks until the support of a doctor, to treat all the soldiers and the local population. We would also hold health clinics as many of them had not had any health care for a number of years.

Whilst Daz was serving in Afghanistan the FA Premiership Cup was brought to boost moral at the time. Daz is shown holding this prestigious trophy and he said it came with its own security guards.

On my return from Afghan I was promoted to Sgt and then posted to work in an Army careers office in Portsmouth. This was one of my favourite jobs I have ever done. Not only did I help people get a job into the forces but a also helped to work in schools as a mentor for children who had fallen off the rails.

I then got promoted to Staff Sargent, which then changed my career path from medic to manager. This meant I had to complete an AMSPAR qualification which meant many weeks in college and as a result became a qualified practice manager.

With this I was then posted to Bicester, Bath, Bristol, Lichfield and then finally Winchester in the post of practice manager and finishing the Army after 27 years attaining the rank of Warrant Officer.

I have finally finished my career and retired to this lovely village life of Bridgerule. Everyone is so friendly and have made us feel welcome. Sons Bradley, now 19, is working as a trainee accountant in Bude and Joshua, now 18, has completed his A levels and looking to join the RAF.

Daz is now in a position where he would like to find a new job or career. He asks that if any readers know of any vacancies available or as he says if anyone would like a hand please let him know on 07515 377807.

As Editor of The Buzz I would like to thank Daz most sincerely for agreeing to be Spotlighted and giving us a little insight of his chosen and most respected career. 27 years in the Army and he is still only 43!! For readers who are not sure who Daz is. Well, you have probably seen him and Shona out and about with their black 10 year old Labrador, Barney.

Move It or Lose It was featured recently on Women's Hour !

Jenni Murray (BBC) interviewed Professor Janet Lord from Birmingham University's Department for Healthy Ageing about the benefits of exercise to health as we age. Professor Lord explained that with age our muscles and bones become weaker but with suitable exercise we can build them up again and improve strength, balance and coordination. Attending a Move It or Lose It! class does not involve wearing lycra or getting up and down from a mat. We have routines to music and everyone is encouraged to work at their own pace with seated, supported or standing options all with the opportunity to progress as strength improves.
